

Because every child and family deserves access to resources that improve their mental health and wellness, we prioritize wellness through school and community partnerships.

Jordan Health and Wellness Priorities

Increase student resilience through intentional instruction of social and emotional learning (SEL)

- Amplify districtwide bullying prevention efforts
- Increase SEL resources for schools and community members
- Support the development of wellness centers in schools
- Provide support for Second Step implementation
- Strengthen student's resilience and problem solving through restorative practices
- Enhance suicide prevention educational resources

Increase student and family access to mental health services both in school and in the community

- Provide responsive mental health services to students and families through Clinical Specialists and District Team
- Facilitate access to community mental health providers
- Provide responsive crisis management and support to schools
- Improve access through regular mental health screenings
- Collaborate with essential community partners
- Support SafeUT implementation and response for school personnel

Increase District, school, and community mental health & wellness literacy

- Organize Parent Seminars to build social health, connection, and wellness in the community
- Expand suicide risk intervention skills through relevant, evidence-based training
- Improve awareness of the impact of trauma on mental health and learning
- Spread wellness knowledge through "Wellness Wednesdays," newsletters, and online resources
